The parts of speech are the building blocks of sentences. Each part serves a unique function, contributing to the overall meaning and structure of language. Let's look at a brief overview of each part of speech:

- Nouns: Words that name people, places, things, or ideas (e.g., dog, city, happiness).
- Pronouns: Words that replace nouns to avoid repetition (e.g., he, she, it).
- Verbs: Action words that describe what the subject is doing (e.g., run, think, is).
- Adjectives: Words that describe or modify nouns (e.g., blue, quick, happy).
- Adverbs: Words that modify verbs, adjectives, or other adverbs, often ending in -ly (e.g., quickly, very).
- Prepositions: Words that show relationships between nouns or pronouns and other words in a sentence (e.g., in, on, at).
- Conjunctions: Words that connect words, phrases, or clauses (e.g., and, but, or).
- Interjections: Words that express strong emotions or sudden exclamations (e.g., wow, ouch, hooray).
