Understanding the A1 German Language Test

The A1 German language test is the first level of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR). The test typically assesses four key areas: listening, reading, writing, and speaking.

Structure of the A1 Test

2. Reading Comprehension: In this part, you will read simple texts, such as advertisements, brochures, or short messages, and answer related questions.
3. Writing: The writing section requires you to complete simple tasks, such as filling out forms, writing short messages, or composing a basic email.
4. Speaking: This component involves a face-to-face interaction with an examiner, where you will answer questions about yourself, your family, and your daily life.
