Step 3: Schedule the Flush

Choose a weekend or a time when you can relax, as the flush requires several steps to complete over two days.

The Liver and Gallbladder Flush Protocol

The flush itself is a two-day process involving a series of specific steps. Here is a detailed outline:

Day 1: Preparation

1. Morning and Afternoon: Continue with a light diet consisting of fruits and vegetables. Avoid heavy meals.
2. Evening:
 - At 6 PM: Mix 4 tablespoons of Epsom salt in 3 cups of water. This solution will help relax the bile ducts.
 - At 8 PM: Drink 3/4 cup of the Epsom salt solution.

Day 2: The Flush

1. Morning:
 - Upon waking, drink another 3/4 cup of the Epsom salt solution.
 - Wait two hours (until around 10 AM).
2. Evening (around 6 PM):
 - Mix 1 cup of olive oil with 1 cup of freshly squeezed grapefruit juice. This combination helps stimulate the gallbladder to release stones.

Step 2: Reintroduce Foods Gradually
