A fundamental part of ap world history preparation is familiarizing oneself with the exam format. The AP World History exam assesses students' ability to analyze historical evidence, make connections across different regions and time periods, and develop coherent arguments. The test is divided into two main sections: multiple-choice questions and free-response questions.

Multiple-Choice Section

The multiple-choice section typically consists of 55 questions that must be completed within 55 minutes. These questions test students' knowledge of historical facts, concepts, and cause-and-effect relationships. They also assess the ability to interpret primary and secondary sources, including maps, graphs, and texts.

Free-Response Section

The free-response section includes three types of questions: a Document-Based
