

come thou fount of every blessing sheet music piano

Come Thou Fount of Every Blessing sheet music piano is a cherished piece in the world of traditional hymns, known for its beautiful melody and profound lyrics. This hymn, originally penned by Robert Robinson in 1758, has transcended generations, becoming a staple in both church services and personal worship. In this article, we will delve into the history of the hymn, its musical composition, its significance in contemporary worship, and how to access sheet music for piano.

Historical Background

"Come Thou Fount of Every Blessing" was written by Robert Robinson at the age of 22. The hymn's inception was influenced by the revivalist movements of the 18th century and the burgeoning Methodist movement. Robinson's life was marked by a dramatic conversion experience; he had once lived a life of rebellion before turning to Christ. His personal journey of faith is reflected in the lyrics of the hymn, which express gratitude, longing, and the quest for divine guidance.

The hymn's first publication appeared in a collection of hymns called "A Collection of Hymns for the Use of the People Called Methodists." Over the years, it has been set to various melodies, but the most recognized tune is "Nettleton," composed by John Wyeth in 1813. This melody has become synonymous with the hymn, contributing to its enduring popularity.
